The young men of Mississippi Boychoir, ages 7 to 18, love music and love to sing. They gather from towns around the state to rehearse weekly, to give concerts within Mississippi, and to travel to festivals outside the state and occasionally out of the country. In 2007-2008 their weekly rehearsals will be held in Jackson, Hattiesburg, and on the Coast.

Mississippi Boychoir is about changing lives, one boy at a time. It's about making new friends and traveling to exciting places. It's about learning to sing well, but it's also about learning leadership, discipline, and teamwork and having fun.

The Boychoir has performed in every major city in Mississippi and has been presented in four major concerts with symphony orchestras. The boys have sung with the Mississippi Chorus, American Boychoir, Moscow Boychoir, and the choirs of Belhaven College, Millsaps College, and Mississippi College. They have also been featured at Disney World and two Atlanta Braves games. Boychoir members have participated in festivals in Carnegie Hall, Vancouver, London, China, and the Czech Republic, and two alums have starred in Disney musicals on Broadway.

Mississippi Boychoir is a non-profit organization, non-denominational, incorporated by the State of Mississippi, and funded in part by the Mississippi Arts Commission, the National Endowment for the Arts, and numerous corporate partners. Although the program is tuition-based, scholarships are available. Membership is by invitation, after an audition.
